NICHOLS SUED FOR DAMAGES

Chief of Police Charged With False Imprisonment and Arrest

FALSE arrest and imprisonment are charged against Chief of Police W. H. Nichols in a suit for $5,000 filed against him Friday morning by L. C. Guerg, uncle and guardian ad litem of Fred Blackstock, an Oklahoma City young man, 20 years of age, whose mother, Alice M. Blackstock, and wife, Mrs. Eddie and Deputy constable of Maryland, who furnished chief Nichols' bond, are also named in the suit which comes to trial in district court November 20.

Harks Back to Simpson Case
According to the petition Blackstock accused the arrest of Fred Simpson, of Oklahoma City, on April 22, 1915, on the charge of forging a U. S. money order sent by Mrs. Blackstock to her son, Eddie, in Baltimore, from whence it was stolen by Simpson and cashed at the local postoffice. Mrs. Blackstock, who is interested in news paper and magazine work, was out of the city at the time. Her son, upon discovering the loss, went to the man to Simpson, who frequently visited about the office. One day, just before noon, he was arrested and placed in the police station and later was sentenced to seven years at Leavenworth Penitentiary in Kansas City, Kan.

On the anniversary of his release it is claimed Nichols failed to call the police station to give further information about the man. At 1 P. M. Peter Nichols, so the petition states, Blackstock and wife came into his private office where he remained and told him that his son had been returned, a sum of money having been paid to him. Blackstock's attorney was informed, however, that the money was paid to Nichols' law office and eight days after the trial.

Hold Three Days in Jail
Then, according to the petition, Blackstock was held in jail for the necessary change of residence on April 22, 1915, and on the afternoon of April 25, on the same day, Mr. Nichols took return, a sum of money for his son's alleged arrest, and to the jail where he was confined.

It is recited in the petition Nichols knew of the time of Blackstock's arrest that the young man was innocent and suffered the same from pure malice. One hundred dollars damages is asked for Blackstock's loss of time from his business during his alleged imprisonment, $100 for injuries to his health and mental peace and $4,500 for injuries alleged to have been inflicted to his business and reputation.

According to Chas. H. Ruth, attorney for the plaintiff, "there is nothing of 'false work' in the case." Both Mrs. Blackstock and her son consulted the pastor of their church before deciding to bring the charges against the chief of police.

When called to testimony, Mrs. Blackstock would rather affirm in just that Fred Blackstock was her son and would say nothing whatever about the case.

Chief Nichols declared he had not been informed about the filing of the suit and said he had no comment to make.

for a demonstration. Take a good ride in a good car. Call on the driver to drive up the steepest hill that you ever saw an automobile climb, take him to the country to the sand, or any place that you can think of that will give the car a real test and if The Haynes does not perform with more ease than any other car, then we do not ask you to buy a Haynes.

See the 1916 Haynes
Before You Buy Your Car

Again, we say, see the Haynes, ride in it, test it out, and we will leave it to your own judgment if it is not the biggest buy in the Light Six field. Some of the things you should take into consideration when buying a car: First, ease of operation; second, durability; third, accessibility to all working parts; fourth, cost of upkeep.

If you have in mind spending in the neighborhood of $1500 for a car, find out how much more for your money you can get in the Haynes.

If you have been thinking of putting $2000 or more into a car you will be satisfied with the Haynes, first in performance, second in comfort and lastly in appearance.

Placed alongside of the very highest priced cars, it does not suffer by comparison. And remember, it is made by a company that has had twenty-three years experience, and is still furnishing repair parts for cars built as long as 1899.

Last But Not Least

We furnish free service on all Haynes cars for 1 year from date of sale any place in Oklahoma.

Why not buy a Haynes? You buy service, satisfaction and an automobile that will last you 25 years, if you will give it a half of a chance.

We will gladly give you a demonstration if you will please call Walnut 2050.
All the different Haynes models are now on display at our salesroom.

expense, there was nothing of future changes. The depot, he said, must be built with a view to accommodate raised tracks six or ten years later.

It developed that the Frisco has plans already drawn for a seven-story station and office building to be erected on the proposed site and that negotiations already have been practically consummated whereby the Rock Island would use this station jointly with the Frisco company.

It was determined by the commissioners, in order that the railroads might work out the engineering problems, that the hearing should be continued January 20, when a final order would be made.

Commissioner George Henshaw reported that the request for a union station for Oklahoma City had been made two or three years ago, but that most recent from both the city and railroads involved, the matter had been postponed indefinitely, on account of present financial conditions and the general business and industrial depression which it was.

Commissioner W. D. Humphrey announced that the commission had made no formal investigation of the subject, but that it was prepared to hear the views of the various interests represented. Mayor Ed Overholser was first questioned.

John Morris related that he had attended several conferences between representatives of the Chamber of Commerce and the railroads at intervals since the railroads involved in the matter had been postponed indefinitely, on account of present financial conditions and the general business and industrial depression which it was.
